SUBJECT: Project WUBRINY - Possible Operational Support of Madrid Station Objectives by Edward G. TICHBORN (P)

REFERENCE: OSMA 23, 350 Dated 11 January 1968

1. Per [redacted] request, the undersigned on 30 January 1968 discussed with Edward G. TICHBORN (P) possible support of Madrid Station objectives as raised in ref. It was confirmed that:

a. WUSALINE [redacted] can be used as an information collection mechanism in cases where information requirements can be couched in plausible economic and commercial terms for contractual surveys.

b. TICHBORN can assess and develop selected Spanish contacts of Madrid Station who may be visiting New York and who desire introductions in US commercial circles.

c. TICHBORN can develop [redacted] in New York as may be of operational interest to the Madrid Station. TICHBORN has not made an effort to develop [redacted] in New York but is willing and able to do so for any designated as operational targets. If desired, TICHBORN thinks he can meet the [redacted] through a friend [redacted]

d. TICHBORN feels that he could write an article concerning leading Spanish industrialists and bankers for publishing in a prominent publication, such as "Life International." TICHBORN believes that he has excellent bonafides for such a task because he previously published in "Life International" a four-page spread on birth control in Latin America. This article was favorably reviewed. TICHBORN suggested a related article on the population explosion in Europe and its effect on business as a possible topic for interviewing leading Spanish businessmen. TICHBORN.

as a result of journalistic collaboration with [redacted] is represented in New York by a top literary agent, [redacted] TICHBORN thinks that it would take him two to three weeks in Spain interviewing top Spanish industrialists and bankers. He would send letters in advance to these targets informing them of his proposed itinerary, the purpose of his trip, and enclosing copies of his previous articles with favorable reviewer comments. He could be essentially a free lance journalist or have a business purpose as well. In the latter connection, it is of interest that following TICHBORN's trip to Spain, WUBRINY/1 sent a geologist to WUSALINE/Iberia to look into acquisition of silver properties in Spain. This purely commercial development appears to be a direct result of TICHBORN's trip and thus enhances TICHBORN's commercial bonafides.

2. It is understood that E/IB/S has a copy of TICHBORN's report for dispatch to the Madrid Station per ref.

3. Personnel concerned with Project WUBRINY will be glad to work with E/IB/S in any follow-up to the possibilities noted above.

SUBJECT: Information about Spain (and Portugal)

1. I have a request which seems to me to be right up the alley of your friend, WUBRINY/I. I would hope, therefore, that he will try to do us a fairly rapid and yet analytic job.

2. The request is for as accurate information as possible on the following questions:

a. What or who, or both, represent the most significant power elements in the economic or commercial field in Spain today? Wherever possible, even in the cases where potent companies have been named, specific individuals having the positions of authority should be identified. In addition, wherever possible, relationships between these individuals and American interests whether a company or another individual should be specified.

b. What American interests, corporate or personal, have major investments or holdings in Spain? What are the nature of their investments or holdings and who are the individuals basically responsible?

c. To the extent possible, provide the same answers as requested above for Portugal. Since Spain is of greater interest, this question should only be answered to the extent possible without too great an expenditure of time. If on the other hand it is felt that good answers can be provided with regard to Portugal given extra time, I would suggest that the Spanish answers be submitted as soon as possible and the Portuguese information given at a later date.

3. I would appreciate it if you could let me know as soon as possible WUBRINY/I's reaction to the above requests - can he get the answers; will they be in considerable detail and how long does he think that it will take?

Henry P. López o la Votación Mexicana en los Estados Unidos

Por CARLOS DENEGRI

VII.—LOS ANGELES

¿Que decir de la influencia de México y de su cultura en los Estados Unidos?

"Por favor —dice el abogado Henry P. López—, note usted la acertada sensibilidad política del Presidente Kennedy, y tendremos una primera respuesta a su pregunta. Kennedy ha escogido a un mexicano de origen, ciudadano norteamericano, claro está, Ramón Teller, ex alcalde de El Paso, como embajador de los Estados Unidos en Costa Rica... Otro mexicano, de origen, ha sido designado para dirigir el juzgado de distrito del Sur de Texas. El caso de Enrique González, abogado de San Antonio, es un ejemplo más..."

Pero, ¿quién es Henry P. López...? Nos lo presenta J. Carlos McCormick, ayudante especial del subsecretario auxiliar adjunto de Asuntos Interamericanos, del Departamento de Estado, en Washington: "De ascendencia mexicana, el abogado estadounidense Henry P. López ha logrado una brillante carrera como internacionalista y miembro prominente del Partido Demócrata de California. Graduado en Harvard, miembro de la eminente fraternidad "Phi Beta Kappa", fue el triunfador en el concurso nacional de oratoria de 1942. Candidato de su partido, en 1958, para el cargo de secretario de Estado del Gobierno de California, obtuvo una de las más altas votaciones estatales española que nos dieron su voto en Estados claves: así donde la lucha fue más intensa".

Declaración histórica.

"En California, por ejemplo, el voto potencial del Estado —me refiero al de filiación mexicana de origen—, es de un millón trescientos mil. En Texas, de doscientos cincuenta mil. En Nuevo México, cerca del cincuenta por ciento del electorado es de origen mexicano".

La mayoría de estos votantes son demócratas. Interés, pues, del Partido en el poder, en Estados Unidos, es el de cuidar de cerca, alentar y encantar a esos millones de hispanoamericanos, como los llaman en el vecino país.

"Por eso fue que en la campaña de 1960, por primera vez en la historia, se crearon batallones especiales de mexicanos de origen que, al grito de "Viva Kennedy", asaltaron cívicamente las casillas electorales, dando el triunfo al de Nueva Inglaterra".

Nuestro intermediario, McCormick, fue precisamente el capitán en jefe de esos "batallones" de patriotas...

"Baste haber viajado por la parte sur del país, para que hasta el más superficial observador reconozca, de inmediato, la influencia de México. En la arquitectura, en la música, en la alimentación, en los nombres españoles de las ciudades; en la misma composición étnica del pueblo".

El abogado Henry P. López, enumera, en seguida, los diversos capítulos de lo que él considera la influencia mexicana en los Estados Unidos.

"Lo que respecta a la arquitectura. México ha fijado la imagen de su pasado colonial en incontables edificios, plazas, santuarios y hasta en poblados enteros de Texas, California, Nuevo México, Colorado. Y aun en la misma ciudad imperial de Nueva York. Hay lugares como Santa Bárbara y Monterrey, en California, capaces de evocar tan exquisito sabor hispánico, que nadie puede substraerse a la nostalgia que todo ello produce. Pero no toda la influencia arquitectural de México en los Estados Unidos es colonial. La moderna arquitectura, también tiene toques de mexicanidad. Ahí está, si no, la admirable fachada del edificio "Félix Candela".

Este excelente arquitecto, ejerce una extraordinaria influencia en la arquitectura moderna de Estados Unidos, y, en general, en todas las manifestaciones artísticas y estéticas. Acaba de ser llamado a ocupar la cátedra de poesía en la Universidad de Harvard, donde, en estupendas conferencias, ha desarrollado interesantes teorías sobre el dinamismo poético del moderno dibujo estructural.

Su genio se revela en numerosos edificios construidos en diversas partes del país vecino

López añade:

"En lo que respecta a las artes plásticas, México ha tenido un persistente impacto en la mentalidad norteamericana. En millares de hogares se pueden ver reproducciones de cuadros de Diego Rivera, José Clemente

"Y en más reciente manifestación artística, tenemos a Rufino Tamayo y a José Luis Cuevas. Estos ejercen influencia de vanguardia entre los artistas norteamericanos contemporáneos".

Prosigue López:

"Los autores mexicanos, escritores y poetas, no han tenido aun la abundante publicidad que ha acogido a los pintores. Pero, sin embargo, recientemente han recibido aceptación dos jóvenes escritores: Luis Spota y Carlos Fuentes..."

Nada más?

"Es triste deplorar que muchos norteamericanos se ven aun privados del placer de leer a Mariano Azuela, Carlos González Peña, José Vasconcelos y otros titanes de las letras mexicanas. Sin embargo, puede advertirse de San Antonio, para ocupar una curul en la Cámara de Representantes de Washington, ha hecho resaltar la creciente importancia de la población mexicana en los Estados Unidos".

"El propio Presidente Kennedy, consciente de este hecho y de las grandes proyecciones políticas de su contenido, no vaciló en intervenir personalmente en apoyo de la candidatura de González. Es más: envió al vicepresidente Johnson a San Antonio para que luchase codo con codo. El mismo Mario Moreno "Cantinflas" cooperó con el Partido Demócrata. La victoria de González fue arrolladora".

Normalmente, es innulito que un Presidente comprometa su personalidad en una campaña política local.

"Esta vez, la actitud de Kennedy no sorprendió a los políticos. Era esperada. Formaba parte de la Nueva Frontera. Hace mucho tiempo que sabemos que el voto de los mexicanos de origen es decisivo. Sobre todo en los Estados de Texas, California, Arizona, Nuevo México y Colorado".

López nos recuerda que el propio hermano del actual mandatario estadounidense, y jefe de su campaña electoral, Robert Kennedy, a raíz del triunfo demócrata, declaró con toda sinceridad, y frente a los reporteros del mundo entero: "es muy probable que nuestra victoria se deba en gran parte a los norteamericanos de habla un reciente y súbito interés por las novelas y cuentos de Juan José Arreola y Juan Rulfo".

"Si pasamos al arte cinematográfico, de máximo interés moderno, México puede convertirse en el centro de una de las más grandes producciones artísticas del mundo. Los más refinados y exigentes expectadores de Nueva York, Los Angeles, Chicago y otras ciudades, se han impresionado grandemente con películas tales como: "Macario", "Raíces", "Los Olvidados" y otras más de extraordinaria factura".

(En los círculos cinematográficos se menciona con elogio al mexicano Gabriel Figueroa, como a uno de los camarógrafos más grandes del mundo)...

"Y por supuesto —comenta López con una amplia sonrisa—, ni que hablar de nuestro extraordinario "Cantinflas", que se ha convertido en la atracción de taquilla más importante; a la altura de Anthony Quinn, Gilbert Roland".

Además, es amigo personal del Presidente Kennedy. Fue su coordinador en la campaña que llevó al de Massachusetts a la Presidencia. Idea suya fue el famoso botón amarillo con el sombrero de charro y el "Viva Kennedy!", así, en español, que llevaron en la solapa millones de norteamericanos de origen mexicano.

Entre otros muchos cargos, Henry P. López es presidente de la Juventud Demócrata de California. Quien dice California, quien dice Texas, quien dice Colorado, ya toca un poco las fronteras humanas de México.

Esas fronteras que se extienden hasta donde quiera que exista un hogar mexicano.

¿Enrique González?

La elección reciente de Enrique González, abogado de San Antonio, para ocupar una curul en la Cámara de Representantes de Washington, ha hecho resaltar la creciente importancia de la población mexicanoamericana de los Estados Unidos.

¿Tanto así? ¿Una elección local?

El propio Presidente Kennedy, consciente de este hecho y de las grandes proyecciones políticas de su contenido, no vaciló en intervenir personalmente en apoyo de la candidatura de González. Es más: envió al vicepresidente Johnson a San Antonio para que luchase codo con codo. El mismo Mario Moreno "Cantinflas" cooperó con el Partido Demócrata. La victoria de González fue arrolladora.

Normalmente, es insólito que un Presidente comprometa su personalidad en una campaña política local.

Esta vez, la actitud de Kennedy no sorprendió a los políticos. Era esperada. Formaba parte de la Nueva Frontera. Hace mucho tiempo que sabemos que el voto de los mexicanos de origen es decisivo. Sobre todo en los Estados de Texas, California, Arizona, Nuevo México y Colorado.

López nos recuerda que el propio hermano del actual mandatario estadounidense, y jefe de su campaña electoral, Robert Kennedy, a raíz del triunfo demócrata, declaró, con toda sinceridad, y frente a los reporteros del mundo entero: "es muy probable que nuestra victoria se deba en gran parte a los norteamericanos de habla española que nos dieron su voto en Estados claves: ahí donde la lucha fue más intensa".

En California, por ejemplo, el voto potencial del Estado —me refiero al de filiación mexicana de origen—, es de un millón trescientos mil. En Texas, de doscientos cincuenta mil. En Nuevo México, cerca del cincuenta por ciento del electorado es de origen mexicano.

La mayoría de estos votantes son demócratas. Interés, pues, del Partido en el poder, en Estados Unidos, es el de cuidar de cerca, alentar y encauzar a esos millones de hispanoamericanos, como los llaman en el vecino país.

Por eso fue que en la campaña de 1960, por primera vez en la historia, se crearon batallones especiales de mexicanos de origen que, al grito de "Viva Kennedy!", acallaron rídicamente las cavilaciones electorales, dando el triunfo al de Nueva Inglaterra.

Nuestro intermediario, McCormick, fue precisamente el capitán en jefe de esos "batallones" de paisanos.

Bueno, pero... Nosotros sabemos que se trata de mexicanos de origen. Ese origen, también opera en el ánimo, la moral, la profesión, la sensibilidad de quienes representan "a la raza" en los asuntos públicos de los Estados Unidos.

Pregunta necesaria, no impertinente.

"Conozco a González, ahora representante en Washington. Siempre se ha sentido orgulloso de su ascendencia mexicana. En muchos de sus discursos exhorta "a sus paisanos" a que visiten México; a que perfeccionen su español; a que no olviden sus tradiciones, magníficas y ejemplares. Este mismo orgullo de su origen, se advierte en el senador Dennis Chavez; en el diputado José Montoya; y en políticos de la talla de Eduardo Roybal, Alberto Peña y otros más".

Insistimos. Nos interesa, ciertamente, la sensibilidad política del actual momento nacional de los Estados Unidos. Pero nos interesa también, y muy particularmente, la influencia cultural de nuestro país...

He aquí lo que nos dice López, maestro de Harvard:

"Huelga confirmar, una vez más, que, en todos los ordenes, y desde hace décadas, la influencia mexicana, nativa o inmigrante, en el seno de nosotros, ha sido siempre destacada y visible. Visible y destacada en todos los campos de la cultura; ya no sólo de la vida cívica.

Dear Bob,

I agree with you that our friend's contribution on the Alliance para el Progreso is not for us. It's much more a [redacted] or [redacted] piece, although I'm not sure it's original enough for either. You might, in turning it down, suggest he send it to them.

I see no reason why, in turning this article down, you can't suggest he do something a little more scholarly on the political implications of the Alliance. This could be a fairly interesting exercise, provided it doesn't point the United States too darkly.

Meanwhile, I shall get word off to our friend through other channels clarifying the purposes of our publication.

Best,

201-253203

TICK BORN

Although the sweet sound of 20 billion dollars created a momentary euphoria at the Punta del Este conference several weeks ago, it is now obvious that President Kennedy's prodigious "Alianza para el Progreso" faces a difficult uncertain future.

The delegates had scarcely returned home when the Goulart-Brazilian crisis erupted and thereby threatened the very beginnings of Kennedy's hopeful proposal. And certainly no seasoned observer of Latin American politics can assume that the Brazilian crisis has been resolved by the quickly-devised modus operandi which permitted Joao Goulart to assume the presidency. Goulart insisted the constitutional amendment limiting his powers be submitted to Brazilian voters in a referendum, clearly indicating he will not be content with a mere figurehead status. With the conservative militarists still adamant in their opposition to a fully-powered Goulart, a civil war (a prolonged and bloody one) may be in the offing. Meanwhile, the creators of the Alliance for Progress find themselves in a watchful, hopeful dither.

But, aside from the Brazilian problem, the Alianza already had and still has a number of formidable obstacles which were readily observable from the outset. Fully granting the immense possibilities offered by this economic Magna Carta for the Americas, it would be foolish to overlook or to minimize those basic harsh realities of which dreams are not made.

Among the toughest realities facing the Alliance is the Congress of the United States, which has always been reluctant to approve long-range foreign aid. Even before the U. S. delegation had returned to Washington, Senator Thruston Morton grumpily informed the press that the Republican Party would have no part of Dillon's "wild schemes." Then, in a week of now-you-have-it-now-you-don't hickering in the House and Senate, the Alliance spenders were given to understand that the carte is not quite so blanche as they might hope.

Even assuming a more generous Congressional attitude toward long-range financing rather than year-to-year appropriations, some observers were inclined to skepticism in re Treasury Secretary Dillon's implied promise of 20 billion dollars over a ten-year period. Answering the skeptics, Dillon assured the Punta del Este delegates that a large share of the 20 billion would come from such already-established and soon-to-be-expanded agencies as the Export-Import Bank, Development Loan Fund, the World Bank, the International Cooperation Administration, International Finance Corporation and the Inter-American Development Bank. He also expects increased investment by private entities. But, notwithstanding such assurances, certain financial experts view Dillon's figures as overly optimistic. They point out, for example, that Dillon's expectation of 300 million dollars from the World Bank is unrealistic in view of the fact that it extended only 148 million dollars in credits to Latin America in 1960.

As for Secretary Dillon's expectations for increased investments and loans from private sources, the skeptics would appear to have even greater reason for gloom. On August 12nd of this year the U. S. Department of Commerce published a report indicating a sharp unprecedented drop in private U. S. investments in Latin America. Whereas in 1959 said investments totaled 218 million dollars, the total catapulted to a mere 95 million in 1960, a loss of more than 50 per cent in one year. Much of the blame for this sudden fear can be traced to the Cuban revolution and the sudden upsurge of revolutionary fervor elsewhere in the hemisphere. However, fiscal experts are quick to point out two other factors: (1) the termination of heretofore accelerated expansion of mining operations and (2) the sudden deceleration of activity in the petroleum industry in Venezuela. In the latter case one cannot dismiss the impact of Castro's expropriation policies as reflected in neighboring republics.

Traveling through the U. S. (reading and hearing press and television commentaries and talking with certain members of Congress), one gets the impression that the Alianza's primary problems will be of an economic nature. But, here in Mexico and elsewhere in Latin America, one has the feeling that the political obstacles will be equally if not more troublesome.

For President Kennedy and his aides the sine qua non of the Alianza is a program of structural reforms -- administrative, fiscal, agrarian, etc. -- by all or most of the participating countries. Perhaps too late, the U. S. has realized that the Castrolism it so vehemently abhors and fears has its most effective base where squalor and disease and social injustice abound in the presence of arrogant wealth and power. Whereas Uncle Sam once supported and coddled the Trujillos, <sup>fiscal</sup> Somozas, Jimenes, et al., it now espouses political and social reforms of a fundamental nature. But it is this very insistence on reform (Kennedy has indeed reiterated the phrase "revolution"), this penchant for social change, which has evoked the most skepticism in Latin America.

In solemn heraldic language the 21 nations of the hemisphere promised in writing that the needed reforms would be accomplished, but there must have been many a crossed finger guiding the pens that signed the final document. Will El Salvador's powerful well-entrenched "fourteen families" stand idly by while an agrarian program snatches away their vast coffee plantations? And what about the land-rich hacendados of Bolivia, Nicaragua, Peru, Brazil and other hemisphere republics? For all the vague illusory promises of basic reforms at Punta del Este, one cannot ignore this unavoidable truth: most of Kennedy's hoped-for reforms will seriously affect the personal economic fortunes of the governing cliques in the countries involved. One seriously doubts that these gentlemen shall willingly preside over the liquidation of their personal empires. This in spite of the fact that all of them are fully (or at least partially) aware that, unless voluntary drastic reforms are accomplished, their vast holdings will be taken from them forcibly by some emerging local Fidel Castro. And it may well be that their stubborn resistance to change is buttressed by the millions of dollars they have providentially stashed away in Swiss and American banks during the past few years. In short, they may be engaging in a prolonged "holding action" in the sure knowledge that their days are numbered.

In any event, the promised agrarian or fiscal reforms may paradoxically lead to either of two extremes, both of which would frustrate the stated intentions of the Alliance. On the one hand, Government X might place its program in the hands of timid conservatives who interpret "evolution" as "status quo with minimal changes." Or the whole matter might be referred to do-nothing, what's - in - it - for - me congressional bodies, with little or no prodding from the executive branch of government. On the other hand, Government X might indulge in hasty improvised measures born of public clamor and political flaccidity, all of which could produce one of those nightmare fracasos which embarrass even the most ardent revolutionary. Most of Latin America considers itself decades behind in the socio-economic development of the West, and the urge to move quickly and drastically is everywhere evident.

Now a word about Mr. Dillon's expectations in the realm of private investments as part of the Alianza para el Progreso. According to reports in some of the business journals, prospective investors from Europe, Japan and the United States have certain misgivings about the program.

First of all, these businessmen feel that the Alliance offers only minimal encouragement for private investment in Latin America. Indeed, some are quick to point out that in his initial speech at Punta del Este, Secretary Dillon did not once mention private enterprise -- nor in any of his subsequent comments before the committee on labor. They feel, therefore, that the Alliance is oriented toward government-to-government loans and public works projects on massive scales beyond the scope of the individual entrepreneur.

Secondly, there's considerable doubt as to the real intentions of Latin American governments in re fiscal reform. It will be exceedingly difficult, they say, to alter the long-standing pattern of heavy reliance on import duties and stiff taxes for foreign corporations. Income taxes are comparatively low and tax collection notoriously lax and subject to easy evasion by individuals, merchants and local corporations alike.

Thirdly, these foreign investors are especially dubious about the agrarian aspects of the Alliance. They are predictably apprehensive about expropriation of their immense landholdings for distribution in small parcels among the landless campesinos. (In his state of the union speech on September 1st, Mexico's President Lopez Mateos reported the recent government acquisition of three huge latifundios heretofore owned by Americans.) But aside from a disinclination to see themselves "done in", certain foreign businessmen contend that small farms (or ejidos) are not nearly as productive acre-per-acre as the larger estates -- that even the "cooperatives" of the Fidel Castro type will prove "uneconomic." Rather than expropriate and divide the existing highly productive latifundios, these gentlemen propose immediate and widespread colonization of unused lands. This, they argue, would be cheaper because there would be no cost of indemnification for expropriated properties nor a diminution of productive capacity. For this reason they far prefer the colonization measures of Peru and Brazil to the more drastic style of Mexico and Bolivia.

However, all of the aforementioned uncertainties are of less concern than the omnipresent X factor: the impact of Fidel Castro on all of Latin America. How, why, and to what extent can Fidelismo affect the Alianza para el Progreso? Some observers feel that Castro is indeed the real (if not de jure) father of the Alliance; that without his cataclysmic emergence, the United States would have continued to ignore the poor-cousin republics of the south. (In the 1950's only 3% of our foreign aid went to the 21 nations which comprise Latin America. Laos alone received more aid than all of these countries combined.) But, more importantly, the Cuban premier has aroused the expectations of the heretofore sullen masses throughout the hemisphere, and their respective leaders have become acutely aware of the rumbling discontent. Some of these politicos would no doubt welcome a sudden disposal of the Castro annoyance, but none of them would have participated in a move to openly chastise Cuba at the Punta del Este conference. As a matter of fact, "Che" Guevara managed to accomplish a few minor triumphs despite the cool reception he got from most of the delegates. His post-conference meetings with President Frondizi of Argentina and ex-President Quadros of Brazil are not to be taken lightly.

Although the United States managed to obtain all of the desired signatures on the final declaration at Uruguay, it would be naive for us to suppose that we can once again count on the heretofore solid backing of Latin America. There is, in fact, an increased spirit of neutralism or independence (call it what you will) throughout the hemisphere. Note, for example, that during the conference the then vice-president (now president) of Brazil was on an economic mission to East China. Bolivia, too, had sent a mission to Russia. And shortly after the conference, President Lopez Mateos told an opening session of the Mexican congress that his country has been and will continue to follow an independent course, free of any adherence to either of the great powers.

It would appear, therefore, that the Alliance for Progress faces a tougher and more devious course than the Good Neighbor policy of Franklin Roosevelt. And it is equally apparent that unless the plan does succeed, there will be a prolonged period of unrest, bloodshed and misery -- perhaps oblivion.

REPORT RE PROSPECTS

✓ 1. [redacted]

[redacted] seems to me to be a good prospect. I gave a small cocktail party for mutual friends (both political and social) so that I could observe [redacted] reactions to a variety of problems concerning Latin America. It would appear from his lengthy comments and reactions to comments from others that he would be helpful to us.

[redacted] is articulate, bilingual and resourceful. [redacted]

He has, of course, no inkling of my role so do not mention my name in any way if he's contacted. His name is in the valley directory (the brown one) of the Los Angeles area. It's a Michens number.

2. [redacted]

Appears to be definitely anti-KUBARK due to the Cuban invasion fiasco. He's a very able person, but I doubt that he would be interested in helping us.

✓ 3. [redacted]

Having drawn blank as [redacted] I arranged a casual meeting with [redacted] re Latin American political picture.

[redacted] Bright, resourceful, articulate and bilingual. I would judge that he might be willing to do some work for us.

He lives near UCLA campus and can be reached through graduate school (political science division).

NOTE:

None of these men knows or even remotely suspects my role. I would suggest contacting them no sooner than three weeks from now, so that they could draw no inference of coincidence.

August 22, 1961.

Dear [redacted]

As scheduled, I arrived back in Gainesville on the morning of Saturday, August 19, ready to return to work on Monday.

In regard to my Mexican friend, I sent the letter of which you have a copy and re-inforced it with a telegram to confirm a date for a visit as we wanted to be in Oaxaca for the weekend. There was no reply and inasmuch as the visit was one called for only by the courtesy of a friend, I made no effort to reach him otherwise. [redacted] told me on my return that she believed that the Saturday and Sunday dates were the only ones he had available. Our Mexican editor was also out of town so that I could leave cards for him at his office but otherwise could do nothing.

I saw [redacted] and consulted with him regarding the review of his book for the Journal. This is the only direct business I could do on my vacation other than obtaining certain leads for authors of articles from the newspapers and magazines.

I am told that you will be down here this week or next. I am very glad of this as there are a number of matters in which our affairs require immediate attention. All of them have been discussed before but the final arrangements have not yet been made. I believe we especially need to talk about the Centro and the Academy.

I am enclosing a statement by my assistant regarding some sick leave during my absence. This will be the only addition to reports previously made.

I would be glad to make reservations for you if you will let me know the details of your arrival.

With best wishes,

PRINT NAME (Pseudonym)

TICBORN, Edward O.

WITHHOLDING EXEMPTIONS

INSTRUCTIONS

1. NUMBER OF EXEMPTIONS.--Do not claim more than the correct number of exemptions. However, if you expect to owe more income tax for the year than will be withheld if you claim every exemption to which you are entitled, you may increase the withholding by claiming a smaller number of exemptions.

2. CHANGES IN EXEMPTIONS.--You may file a new certificate at any time if the number of your exemptions INCREASES.

You must file a new certificate within 10 days if the number of exemptions previously claimed by you DECREASES for any of the following reasons:

(a) Your wife (or husband) for whom you have been claiming exemption is divorced or legally separated, or claims her (or his) own exemption on a separate certificate.

(b) The support of a dependent for whom you claimed exemption is taken over by someone else, so that you no longer expect to furnish more than half the support for the year.

(c) You find that a dependent for whom you claimed exemption will receive $600 or more of income of his own during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age).

OTHER DECREASES in exemption, such as the death of a wife or a dependent, do not affect your withholding until the next year, but require the filing of a new certificate by December 1 of the year in which they occur.

For further information about changes in exemption status resulting from marriage, divorce, legal separation, birth, death, new dependents, multiple support agreements, old age, blindness, etc., consult your local District Director of Internal Revenue or your employer.

3. DEPENDENTS.--To qualify as your dependent (line 4 below), a person (a) must receive more than one-half of his or her support from you for the year, and (b) must have less than $600 gross income during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age), and (c) must not be claimed as an exemption by such person's husband or wife, and (d) must be a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone, and (e) must (1) have your home as his principal residence and be a member of your household for the entire year, or (2) be related to you as follows:

Your son or daughter (including legally adopted children), grandchild, stepson, stepdaughter, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law;
Your father, mother, grandparent, stepfather, stepmother, father-in-law, or mother-in-law;
Your brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, half brother, half sister, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law;
Your uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece (but only if related by blood).

4. PENALTIES.--Penalties are imposed for willfully supplying false information or willful failure to supply information which would reduce the withholding exemption.

1. If SINGLE, and you claim an exemption, write the figure "1" . . . . .

2. If MARRIED, one exemption each for husband and wife if not claimed on another certificate.

(a) If you claim both of these exemptions, write the figure "2" } . . . . . 2
(b) If you claim one of these exemptions, write the figure "1"
(c) If you claim neither of these exemptions, write "0"

3. Exemptions for age and blindness (applicable only to you and your wife but not to dependents):

(a) If you or your wife will be 65 years of age or older at the end of the year, and you claim this exemption, write the figure "1"; if both will be 65 or older, and you claim both of these exemptions, write the figure "2".

(b) If you or your wife are blind, and you claim this exemption, write the figure "1"; if both are blind, and you claim both of these exemptions, write the figure "2".

4. If you claim exemptions for one or more dependents, write the number of such exemptions. (Do not claim exemption for a dependent unless you are qualified under instruction 3 above.) . . . . . 3

5. Add the number of exemptions which you have claimed above and write the total. 5

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Final Arrangements for Edward G. Tichborn's (P) Contract Status in [redacted]

REFERENCE: Memorandum for the Record, dated 17 May 1961

1. When I talked with Tichborn (P) on Wednesday, 17 May, to arrange a meeting with him for Messrs. [redacted] he stated that he was most anxious to leave on Saturday for [redacted] and wanted to know if final details could be taken care of at our arranged meeting on the 19th in order that he could depart on Saturday, the 20th. As I told Tichborn, I was somewhat surprised that he planned to leave so soon although I did know he was anxious to get settled as soon as possible. I said I would do everything possible to make the final arrangements so that he could leave as he planned.

2. As a result, Mr. Charles Penney, WH/CA, [redacted] and the undersigned of CA/PAG, and Tichborn met Friday the 19th at the [redacted] to talk about the terms of Subject's contract, to brief him on operational details, Station contact, etc. Mr. Penney had also arranged that one of their agents connected with the [redacted] of the [redacted] meet Tichborn during the briefing. This individual did attend the meeting briefly and it is anticipated that perhaps at a later date, this organization might be useful as cover for Tichborn in some of his endeavors and might also be used as a vehicle for bringing promising students to the US. Tichborn (P) was told that he should write a letter to this individual upon his arrival in Mexico City alerting him that he had arrived.

3. Most of the time was taken up with talking about terms of the contract. Briefly, Tichborn will have a [redacted] of his time, and will be paid a salary of [redacted] per annum. In addition, for any trips made outside Mexico in connection with his assignment, he will receive travel and operational expenses plus per diem. He will also receive mileage for his automobile when it is used in the course of duty and will be reimbursed for any fees related to his registering (probably as an auditor) at the [redacted] etc. in connection with his assignment. He will be paid on a monthly basis, probably sending a check to his bank in [redacted] Details need to be worked out on the cover firm to be used in making such deposits and this is being taken care of by both PAG and WHD (it might be possible to use the same firm as in the past, [redacted] Tichborn was also advised as to some items which cannot be claimed under "operational expenses" such as air flight insurance, purchase of personal clothing, parking of automobile while on TDY, broken eye-glasses, etc. He was also told that any questionable items should be checked out with his Station contact and all vouchers and submission of accounting would be made to that person.

4. Tichborn was told that he would be contacted on 29 May (he plans to drive to Mexico City and arrive there on about 25 May) by someone from the Station using an assumed name which was provided him. Tichborn will be staying at the [redacted] he can also be reached by leaving a message at [redacted] He will also be legitimately employed as legal representative by [redacted]

[redacted] A clearance is being obtained by WH on [redacted] although it is not planned to make him witting of Tichborn's activities.

5. [redacted]

[redacted] It is also anticipated that he would be used from time to time to assess the general political situation in various Latin American countries, as he has done in the past, and perhaps also to act as advisor in election operations when such need arises. Subject brought up the subject of [redacted] and stated that during his conversation with [redacted] they had stated that it would be helpful if he could make contacts with [redacted] in order to report on the political situation as a whole and [redacted] particularly. (I checked this out today with [redacted] and he said that Subject had exaggerated a bit and that this was only discussed in general terms, and that they had specifically told Tichborn that his operational instructions would come from the Station.) Mr. Penney told Tichborn in this connection that he should only concentrate on student affairs for the time being and that it would not be to his advantage to begin working in a field which is already being covered by the Embassy and the Station. It is thought that he will eventually be eased into this type of activity, but he should not engage in such activities until he receives a go-ahead from his contact. Subject understood and agreed.

6. WED is now writing up the contract and it will be sent to the Station for Tichborn's signature. It will be dated 25 May 1961. Mr. Penney has agreed to show this contract to CA/PAG prior to forwarding it to the Station. Other than clarifying cover arrangements for his monthly salary deposits, there are no outstanding matters to be settled in connection with Tichborn's contract status.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: CA/PAG Arrangements for Contract Employment of Edward G. Tichborn (P) by WHD or IOB.

1. Prior to leaving for [redacted] asked me to arrange interviews for Edward G. Tichborn (P) with both WHD and IOB for the purpose of trying to arrange Agency contract employment for him in addition to his legitimate occupation. Tichborn (P) has been awaiting a political appointment from the new administration and in April of this year left [redacted] and brought his family to Washington in this connection. He has been sent on two TDY missions in the VA area during the past two years and was very successful in both. He feels that he could be of great assistance to the Agency in the future in the Latin American area, and we agree. Accordingly, two interviews were arranged for him in order to set up something of this nature.

2. Prior to going into the details of these interviews, it might be useful to comment on what job possibilities are available to Tichborn (P) outside the Agency. According to him, a position as "special assistant" to the Director of Latin American Affairs in USIA has been created for him. Tichborn (P) is not, however, anxious to accept this position since a "deputy" already exists and frictions would undoubtedly arise and also he would be based in Washington. Secondly, there is a possibility of being assigned as "deputy director" of the ICA mission in a Latin country such as [redacted] Tichborn (P) is not interested in this position either since there would appear to be little chance of advancement and he has also been advised by some Congressional friends that such an assignment would be somewhat equal to "going off to Siberia" career-wise. The other two job potentials are non-governmental and are private in nature. The first, but perhaps least desirable of these (since he would have to put up some of his own funds) is to assist some contacts in New York in establishing an investment concern in Latin America. The main advantage of this would be that he would be traveling throughout the area on an exploratory basis. The second of these non-governmental positions, and the one which is at present most to Tichborn's (P) liking is legal representation for [redacted]

[redacted] travel throughout Latin America and would at the same time leave him free to devote a considerable amount of time to operational activities. The main draw-back is that the salary (unspecified) apparently is not adequate or commensurate to the income Tichborn (P) has derived from his law practice in the past.

3. As to Tichborn's (P) present situation, he is anxious to get settled as soon as possible and is waiting to determine our actual interest in using him before he makes a decision as to which job offer to accept. He is not working in this interim, although he has left someone in his law office on the West Coast and does derive some income therefrom, which is another factor in his hoping to obtain an answer from us as soon as possible. Also, he is temporarily renting a house in Arlington and would like very much to get his family more or less permanently settled and his children in school.

4. This future use of Tichborn (P) was suggested to WHD and IOB in general terms a few weeks ago and both appeared interested, and WHD especially so. Consequently, an appointment was set up with WHD for 5 May, but this meeting was cancelled due to other meetings which arose within WHD. Meetings were then arranged and held with [redacted] of IO/6 on 6 May and with Mr. Penney of WH/CA on 9 May, both of which were held at the [redacted]. The conversations were very rewarding to all concerned and IO/6 expressed an interest in Tichborn's working in [redacted] in the WH area, but felt that it would take a minimum of six months to arrange, which would not be the best solution to the current issue at hand. WH is also interested in having Tichborn (P) work in this field and Subject is most enthused about this possibility.

5. Tichborn (P) has several operational ideas which should be of interest to the clandestine services. One about which he feels very strongly and which he stressed when talking to IO/6 (Students) was that he feels a great deal remains to be done in the student and professor fields. Among other related suggestions, he feels that more politically promising students should be brought to the U.S. for study. In order to accomplish the objective of collecting such potential leaders to our cause, he feels a thorough spotting program should be undertaken and that the criteria for selection of such individuals should be based on this potential rather than on past academic records per se which is the current basis for selection in current exchange programs. He feels, and rightly so, that good grades not necessarily synonymous with leadership qualities. In Latin universities some students spend more time on their political activities than they do on their academic work, and it is among this group that the potential political leaders are found, hence, a new set of criteria are necessary in order to satisfy our requirements and interests. Tichborn (P) also feels that professors could be recruited to assist in such spotting and also that there should be an expanded exchange of such individuals in the U.S. Our efforts along these lines would not conflict with those exchange programs already in effect since our objectives would be different and the type of student or professor involved would be of a different calibre and nature. IO/6 felt that Tichborn (P) has much potential along these lines and was very much interested in his idea per se. The only difficulty they foresaw for the present is that they have no organization in existence under which such an activity would be undertaken and hence, if it were agreed to follow up on this, some kind of a private institution or organization would have to be established and this would require at least six months.

6. The meeting with Mr. Penney of WH was most fruitful. Mr. Penney felt that Tichborn (P) has some very interesting operational ideas and that due to his background, appearance, language, experience and native abilities, etc he would be of definite value to WHD. [redacted] WH/C/CA had also previously expressed this same view, although he had not personally met Subject). Mr. Penney was told of Subject's ideas on student-professor activities noted in paragraph 5 above, and felt that it would be of definite interest to the Division. In addition, the possibility was discussed in general terms of utilizing Tichborn (P) in another capacity within the Division; this was in connection with a Harris, here-vide going program of setting up anti-Castro groups throughout the area. This, however, was only mentioned as a secondary idea. If Subject were utilized in the student professor field, he would perhaps also be called upon from time to time to assist in political matters (such as assessing the political scene as he has done in the past, assisting in election activities, etc.) throughout Latin America on a more or less one-time basis. Employment by WHD of Tichborn (P) in the student field would be on a half time basis and Tichborn (P) would accept the job offer with the [redacted] mentioned in paragraph 2 above as legitimate employment which would also serve as cover.

7. [redacted] C/CA, suggested that we might also consider him in connection with a new political grouping of liberal, democratic, anti Communist political parties throughout Latin America which is presently under consideration. [redacted] felt, and rightly so, that this operation would permit the full utilization of Tichborn's (P) talents in the political field. Consequently, I checked out this possibility with Mr. Peary who agreed that he would be an excellent choice for such an assignment. He suggested that I talk about this possible project in more detail with [redacted] of WH/I, which I did. [redacted] stated that this operation is still in the preparatory stage and that a project must be approved, etc which would take a minimum of 10 days to two weeks. (This idea was recently suggested by [redacted] to C/WH and a letter was sent to all WH field stations. The question of whether such a group would be under the control of State or CIA was resolved on 12 May and is under our jurisdiction.) Once this project is set up, the position for which Tichborn (P) would qualify (sort of a liaison between the various parties comprising this grouping) would be full-time and would probably be based in Caracas. The scheduling for this project is still vague at the moment and it has also not been determined whether this slot would be filled by a staff employee or by a contract agent. In other words, the timetable and details are still uncertain. Nevertheless, with the consent of WHD, I suggested this job possibility to Tichborn (P) in vague terms (that it would be full-time, would be on a higher-level, would be more in the strictly political field and that he would probably be based in Caracas if he were accepted in this connection).

Tichborn (P) thought it over and called me on 15 May stating that due to the high cost of living there he would need a salary of between [redacted] per annum; also he would prefer half-time employment with us to full time since it would allow half-time employment with us to full time since it would allow his mobility of action in his own profession. I then checked with [redacted] to determine what salary payment they were considering for this position, and he stated that including a living allowance, it would probably amount to between [redacted] although he was not sure of the exact figure. On 16 May I relayed this information to Tichborn (P) plus the fact that nothing definite on the whole project would be known for at least ten days.

8. Tichborn's (P) personal decision on these possibilities as he relayed them to me by phone on 16 May was the following: since WHD had stated after talking to him that it is definitely interested in his working in the student-professor field throughout Latin America [redacted] with the [redacted] and since he had confirmed by phoning Mexico City that that job offer was still open, since he prefers half-time Agency employment and since he is anxious to be settled as soon as possible, he would prefer to accept this particular assignment. Since Mr. Penney had informed me that they would be ready to discuss terms and sign a contract at any time, I said that I would arrange for such a meeting. (In this connection, [redacted] had mentioned to Subject in general terms that for half-time employment he might receive approximately [redacted] salary, I had checked this out with WH and they said that their going rate for such employment is [redacted] with only a very slight, if any, possibility of a [redacted] figure. Hence, I relayed this information to Tichborn (P) who said that he would like to talk this over, but more or less implied that the [redacted] range would be acceptable.) Tichborn (P) added that if an Institute for student activities as discussed with IO/6 is set up at a later date, he would also be interested in working with it.

9. In the meantime, on 17 May, IO/3 called me to say that they also had two job possibilities for Tichborn (P) since they had been informed of him through [redacted] of IO/6. I talked to [redacted] about one possibility which I felt would not be of interest to Subject and so advised them. This involved the need for someone with a legal background to talk with Cuban exiles wherever they might be in the U.S. or Latin America and to obtain affidavits from them concerning legal travesties of justice which have, and are, occurring in Cuba; this information will then be published in booklet form. This assignment would last probably not longer than three months, and so would not be of interest to Tichborn (P) who is very anxious to be permanently settled. The other job possibility was presented to me by [redacted] and concerned the grouping of liberal, democratic parties as mentioned in paragraph 7 above. This idea was also impractical. KJ/3 apparently feels that this grouping is already in existence through the [redacted] in [redacted].

[redacted] however, as stated above, to my knowledge the related project is in the hands of WHD. I suggested that it would be unrealistic to suggest that Tichborn (P) be employed by ID for this purpose until the two Divisions had gotten together to see where such jurisdiction lay--if indeed there was any question. Then [redacted] suggested that perhaps Tichborn (P) could be utilized in connection with the Institute and some of its expanded activities. The timetable for this was rather vague. I informed them that Subject had quite positively already decided on an assignment with SHP, but that we certainly appreciated their interest and would let them know what his reaction might be. (When I spoke by phone to Tichborn (P) that same morning, I told him that two other possibilities might exist, but that I did not yet know the details of what they might be. He said that insofar as he was concerned I need not bother to check them out as he was not interested in the WHD assignment.) Since the first offer is for a limited time, since the second is a jurisdictional matter and Subject has already stated he would not be interested in that assignment, and since the third is vague as to timetable, I feel Tichborn (P) would not be interested in any of these possibilities.

19. Future meetings with Tichborn (P) have been arranged as follows. [redacted] had expressed to me an interest in meeting Subject and a meeting has therefore been arranged for Mr. [redacted] to meet with him on 17 May at 6 p.m. at the Shoreham. The purpose of this meeting is to get acquainted with Tichborn (P) and to discuss some of his ideas and feelings about the Latin American situation in general. In order to make concrete arrangements as soon as possible for bringing Tichborn (P) on board in a contract status, I have arranged a meeting with Mr. Penny, Subject and myself on 18 May at 3 p.m. at the Roger Smith. At this meeting, financial terms, operational details and related subjects will be defined in order that a contract may be written as soon as possible. Results of this meeting will be the subject of a separate memorandum.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Debriefing of Edward G. Tichborn (P) upon Return from [redacted]

REFERENCE: Memo for the Record, "Plans for Debriefing of Edward G. Tichborn (P) in Washington," dated
8 March 1961

1. Edward G. Tichborn (P) arrived in Washington from California on 12 March and was debriefed on 13 and 14 March 1961. The debriefing was held in Subject's room at the Statler Hotel and was tape recorded. Those participating in this debriefing were Messrs. Paul Paxton [redacted] of WHD and the undersigned. Tichborn (P) related the contacts he had made, their impressions of the local political scene, his own assessment of the situation, personal comments on the economy and government obtained from "slumming" among the local lower classes, etc. Tichborn (P) also pointed out areas in which we could make a positive contribution and gave a number of over-all recommendations concerning the political and economic fields.

2. The WHD representatives were very favorably impressed with Tichborn (P) personally and with his activities while in El Salvador on the related TDY mission.

3. The American Ambassador [redacted] had met Tichborn (P) while there and was sufficiently impressed with him that he sent a telegram to Mr. Thomas Mann of the Department suggesting that the latter might find it very profitable to contact Tichborn (P) and discuss the [ ] situation with him (see [ ] dated 10 March 61). As a result, Tichborn (P) was apprised upon his arrival that if he did meet with Mr. Mann that he should not conceal the fact that he had gone to [ ] on behalf of CIA. (In the meantime, Mr. Mann was being informed of this relationship by WHD in order to avoid any possible embarrassing situations.) Tichborn (P) was anxious to talk with Mr. Mann and Mr. Paxton was attempting to set up an appointment with him. However, Mr. Mann was occupied on other matters and Mr. Paxton therefore suggested to [ ] that he might meet with Tichborn (P). A meeting was suggested by [ ] for 2:30 Thursday the 16th, but Tichborn (P) stated that since he had an appointment at the White House at 3 pm that it would not be possible. Mr. Paxton asked Tichborn (P) to call [ ] on this and that maybe they could work out another time. No more was heard from Tichborn (P) by Mr. Paxton or by CA/PAG. We had, however, talked with Tichborn (P) Wednesday morning when he called for Mr. Paxton's number and I asked him if we could be of any more assistance and he replied in the negative.

4. Administratively, Tichborn's (P) salary ($1,000) was paid him in cash as he requested on 14 March. Expense money for his transportation to, and his stay in, [ ] were advanced to him by the Station and the related accounting was taken care of there. The only funds which are now due Tichborn (P) are his expenses while in Washington for the debriefing. He stated that he would forward his hotel bill, airplane tickets, and other receipts upon his return to California. He was cautioned to mail the true name receipts (plane tickets, hotel bills, etc.) in one envelope and his accounting sheet, signed in pseudonym, in a separate one.

5. WHD is transcribing the tapes of Tichborn's (P) debriefing and we will receive a copy thereof when completed.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Plans for Debriefing of Edward G. Tichborn (P) in Washington

1. On 6 March Edward G. Tichborn (P) telephoned C/PAG to inform him that he had returned from his TDY assignment to El Salvador. He felt that his trip has been a successful one and that he would have a meaty report to submit. He also suggested that he felt it would be useful if he were debriefed by the interested parties at Headquarters.

2. C/PAG and I agreed that this would be the most useful manner for obtaining all of the details of his activities while in El Salvador, as well as providing an opportunity for WH officers to pose any questions they might have. Consequently I contacted Messrs. Holman and [ ] of WHD and suggested that Tichborn (P) come to Washington on Sunday, 12 March and be debriefed on 13 and 14 March. They agreed this would be an excellent idea.

3. [ ] wanted to check on the financial aspect of Tichborn's (P) trip East. He asked if he would receive an additional salary for that time period. I suggested (as C/PAG had discussed with me) that we would recommend to Tichborn (P) that this debriefing be included in the salary he was informed he would receive for this assignment. (This figure would be $500 per week, or $1,000 for two weeks.) Expenses covering this projected trip to Washington would, however, be separate. I also mentioned to Mr. Holman that this would be suggested to Tichborn and that I felt he would be amenable since this would bring the total time he was on assignment for WH to two weeks. Mr. Holman agreed that I should call Tichborn (P) and ask him to come East next Sunday since he felt it extremely important that they talk with him first-hand. (Mr. Holman did not seem to be particularly concerned about the question of salary in this case.)

4. As a result of this go-ahead from Ned Holman, I called Tichborn (P) on 7 March, mentioned the question of salary as best I could in double-talk, and he said he understood. He also said that he had informed C/PAG that he could not be away from the U.S. for more than a ten-day period at one time, but that he could then come on to Washington at a later date. (He left for El Salvador on 22 February and returned to the U.S. on 5 March). Tichborn (P) said he would fly out on Sunday and call me first thing Monday morning, 13 March; he will be staying at the Statler Hotel. I told him I would meet him there and bring some "friends" along. (On this subject, Mr. Holman said he felt Mr. Herbert, DC/WH, might want to attend the debriefing.)

5. During the time that Tichborn (P) is in Washington, he will also sign the amendment to his contract and the outstanding financial matters will be taken care of.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: TDY Assignment of Edward G. Tichborn (P) to El Salvador

REFERENCES: A. Memorandum for the Record, 18 January 1961

B. Memorandum for the Record, 23 January 1961

1. In early January we had suggested to WH/Salvador that they might find the services of a political consultant of value in their area. The Division checked this out with the Station who agreed that it was an idea worth looking into and asked for additional details. This information was forwarded to the field and in reply, the Station requested that we send the individual concerned to El Salvador to assess the political situation and to give them any related assistance possible.

2. As a consequence, [ ] contacted Edward G. Tichborn (P) by telephone and told him of our interest. Due to the Station's request which we wanted to fill promptly, and also to Tichborn's (P) personal schedule (and the possibility that he might receive an appointment within the Administration in the near future) we wanted to get him to Salvador as soon as possible. After consultation with Tichborn (P) and with the Desk, it was decided that he would leave [ ] on 23 February and arrive in Salvador the following morning.

3. In his telephone conversation, [ ] was forced to rely on the system of "double talking" for the purpose of security; however, the possibility that his services might be required had already been mentioned to Tichborn (P) when he was in Washington on personal matters in January (see Ref. B). [ ] also attempted to "second guess" Tichborn's (P) feelings on this assignment when arranging the details with WHD. The fact that he might receive an appointment was the major factor under consideration, especially in the sense that first, we did not want to expose Tichborn (P) as a KUBARK agent and secondly, we did not want in any way to present Tichborn (P) with any problems in relation to his possible appointment.

4. [ ] told Tichborn (P) in guarded language which was apparently well understood by him that the COS ("our senior partner") and the [ ] ("the senior partner of our cousin firm") would be witting as to his KUBARK connections and that undoubtedly JOEGGPIANT (an American cut-out and contact of the Station) and [ ] JUVAN-1 (a Salvadoran businessman and Station contact with whom he would be working) would also be witting. However, as agreed with WH, the locals other than JUVAN-1 would be unwitting as to his KUBARK connections. Tichborn (P) was informed that he would be "visiting" Salvador and his "old friend" JOEGGPIANT and this cover story was to be cited to the local [ ]

5. [ ] especially pointed out to Tichborn (P) that since WH felt he should talk [ ] we wanted him to be aware of this in the event that this possibility arose at the Station's request. [ ] added that of course we would not want [ ] to take umbrage, etc. at Tichborn's (P) visit or activities and that we had been assured by someone (Paul Paxton) who knows [ ] that the latter could be counted upon for his cooperation and discretion. Tichborn (P) then asked specifically whether he would definitely talk [ ] and [ ] informed him that this would depend upon the Station's judgment. (WH had informed us that this was a possibility since [ ] is new to his post and the Station is trying to work closely with him from the beginning; WH felt that if [ ] later learned that Tichborn (P) had been in the area without his knowledge, he might take offense.) In this event, the Station was advised [ ] to use our channels for any communications to the Department concerning Tichborn (P).

6. WH had also told us that they might have to inform the Department of Tichborn's (P) trip to El Salvador and then decided that this would not be necessary. However, on 23 February, a final decision was made that this would have to be done and since C/WH works so closely with State. PAC did agree to this but requested that this information be in general terms only and that Tichborn's (P) name not be given. WH agreed that it could be done in this way. WH also stated that this information will be passed [redacted] and would be limited to him and Mr. Mann.

7. Tichborn's (P) instructions were that he would be met at the airport if possible by JUEGGPIANT (whose true name and description were provided); if he did not appear, Tichborn (P) was to go to the Intercontinental Hotel and wait there to be contacted by either JUEGGPIANT [redacted] or the COS, Ben Stotts. Upon meeting Tichborn (P) JUEGGPIANT, as a recognition signal, would say "I am a friend of Horace".

8. Tichborn (P) asked if some expense money could be provided him in El Salvador and he was assured that this would be arranged. Since time (and the airlines strike) did not permit his coming to Washington for a detailed briefing on the political situation in Salvador and on his specific mission, these matters plus the funds for expenses will be handled by the Station.

9. Two cables were sent to the field concerning the subject of Tichborn's (P) arrival in El Salvador (DIR 26346, OUT 76088 and DIR 26522, OUT 76527). These cables spelled out Tichborn's (P) cover, the need for special discretion on the part of those individuals who are witting of his relationship with KUBARK, the meeting or contact arrangements, the fact that detailed briefings by the Station would be necessary since it had not been possible to undertake this at Headquarters, his pseudonym and approval for the Station's providing him with certain funds.

10. In summary, PAC's interest was to arrange for Tichborn's (P) arrival in Salvador as soon as possible and at the same time to protect his KUBARK status and assure that this present mission would not in any way interfere with his possible appointment to a post in the Administration.

Dear Henry,

Enclosed is a thermofax copy of the original expense sheet you forwarded to me. Since the regulations require that this accounting be quite specific (much more so than the one for the company) there are a few additions I would appreciate your making. These are marked on the enclosed copy and suggestions for more specific details are keyed thereto below:

1. For all major transportation expenses (plane, train) please add the approximate hours of arrival and/or departure.
2. Please include names of the contacts included in these expenses.
3. Indicate briefly the nature of phone calls.
4. Add something here about "blending in with local color", etc.
5. Make some indication that the books, magazines and newspapers were for background information, etc., related to your trip.
6. A notation that this trip was for operational purposes.

I'm sorry that this is a somewhat bothersome procedure. However, I do want to be able to settle these financial matters for you as quickly as possible after I receive the receipts (or bills) and this will be of valuable assistance in that procedure.

Hope all goes well - let me know the results of your operation and the expenses involved, I shall try to do something about them.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Edward G. Tichborn (P) - Hernia

1. On 1 February Edward G. Tichborn advised me that in lifting his bag out of a taxi on his return trip from Cuba, he suddenly felt a pain in the groin and was afraid that he had a hernia.

2. On the way to the airport he asked me if there would be any chance of the Government picking up his medical expenses in the event that he actually had a hernia which required any substantial treatment. I told him at that time that I did not know what the Government's position would be, but that I would check into the matter and let him know.

3. On 2 February, I contacted [redacted] SSA/DDS, and explained the circumstances to him. At that time, I also pointed out that as far as the provisions of his contract were concerned, it was stated that he was not an employee of the U. S. Government and while it did not make specific reference to medical payments while he was working for us, it did not specifically preclude such payments. [redacted] opined that although the contract stated he was not an employee of the U. S. Government, in actual fact during the period he was doing our bidding, he was. I went on further to explain to [redacted] that in all probability we will call on Tichborn to do future services for us and that while he was being paid, it was doubtful that this reimbursement from us equaled what he would make in his regular law practice. [redacted] stated that there were a number of ways that we could alleviate his situation should it become necessary.

4. The conclusion reached between me and [redacted] was that I should point out to Tichborn that we were under no obligation to recompense him for his injury; however, that upon the completion of treatment if he would submit a claim, we should be glad to review it sympathetically.

5. I passed the gist of the above on to Tichborn on 3 February.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Edward G. Tichborn (P)

1. On the morning of 14 September I called Tichborn and arranged to meet him at his office at 1230. As an attachment to this memo I have outlined the standard approach which was followed in Tichborn's instance; therefore, I will not go further into it.

2. Tichborn struck me as being extremely quick, intelligent, very sympathetic to my suggestions and anxious to cooperate. He is of Mexican descent, speaks Mexican/Spanish fluently and according to him can easily pass as a Mexican. Tichborn has spent considerable time over the years in Mexico as well as attending the University of Mexico for a year or two. He has also traveled to Cuba and is a friend of [redacted]

[redacted] is personally known to me and might, at sometime, be of use to us. I shall not delve into Tichborn's political history as that will be outlined in his PRQ. Part I when it arrives. [redacted]

3. In the period of three hours that I was with Tichborn, I was extremely impressed by him and feel sure that he would do an excellent job of briefing any individuals that we might desire him to brief. I am also sure that if he was sent out on a TDY he would acquit himself in superior fashion. Tichborn is called upon from time to time to give advice on the handling of Mexican/American problems and show the great appreciation of the difficulties of dealing with Latin Americans, their great sense of political morality, their inferiority complex and of their unfounded but nevertheless anti-gringo feelings. Tichborn was particularly interested in the situation in Cuba and asked my opinion of it. My comment in essence was that it seemed pretty obvious that Castro was extremely emotional and tended towards being a demigod who had won the war but was losing the peace. Tichborn concurred in this opinion, adding to it that he felt that Castro was not cognizant of the dangers of Communism.

4. Tichborn knows me as [redacted] Should there be need for his services, I am sure he will do his best to accommodate us.

Henry P. Lopez -

From memo to CI/OA from Deputy Director of Security (I + S) — dated 10 Sept. 59

1. Three developed informants commented favorably re [redacted] character, reputation + loyalty; one informant stated Subj. had been married 3 times + his present marriage almost ended in divorce recently.

2. [redacted] was fined $45 for a 1954 traffic violation + his subsequent failure to appear at the hearing. One informant advised [redacted] had recently been object of inquiries by local police officers. Believed to have resulted from unpaid parking tickets — (?)

→ 3. Subject's name appears numerous times in subversive files on the West Coast. These items contain info. re his activities in the Democratic Minority Conference + list his professional associates. In 1949 he was listed as a member of the Bar Committee against loyalty oaths for lawyers. He was shown as a close associate of [redacted] described by the files as a leftist + his activities were primarily concerned with local minority groups. These activities were extensively reported in the Communist "Daily People's World."

4. [redacted] represented [redacted] a non-cooperative (uncooperative?)

witness before the HCUA [redacted]

[redacted] an admitted Communist member + who has been active in front activities thru the years.

5. Subject reportedly assisted [redacted] during trial of [redacted]

[redacted] members of Community Service Organization. [redacted] according to security files, is close pers. friend of [redacted] security disapproved in 1955, + favorably recommended him. [redacted] is also member of L.A. County Conference on Committee Relations (LACCR) as of Oct. 1953. This organization, although not regarded as Communist dominated, sticks close to Comm line + has spoken out against L.A. Police Dept brutality, teacher firing, loyalty oaths, book-burning + witch-hunting by HCUA, ~~Security Control~~ + UNESCO. [redacted] was also member of Community Service Organ, which was regarded as infiltrated by CP in 54-55 + is influenced but not dominated by the CP at the present time.

6. In Jan. '59, OSI interviewed Subject re his association with [redacted], re latter's alleged Comm. activities. Subj. stated he had known [redacted] since 1938, had not seen [redacted] during 42-55 + since 55 had seen [redacted] occasionally. He recommended [redacted] for a security position + claimed no knowledge of Subject's political orientation or affiliations. [redacted] himself later interviewed + denied all allegations. Security office <sup>therefore</sup> contains no record, however.

→ Security Office recommends serious consideration for utilizing Subject + they be notified of our decision.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Plans

SUBJECT : Utilization of [ ] for Nominal Cover

1. This memorandum contains a recommendation for your approval in paragraph six.

2. [ ] has requested that Edward G. TICHBORN, an American Contract Agent of [ ] who is presently assigned to [ ] be temporarily assigned to the [ ] to assist [ ] in the period immediately preceding the 1 June presidential election. [ ] and TICHBORN have agreed to this assignment and it is proposed that TICHBORN go to [ ] in the immediate future to read in on the operations and then return to [ ] on approximately 1 May to carry out whatever operational duties [ ] may assign him. It is presumed that he would return to [ ] shortly after 1 June 1966.

4. In late 1959, TICHBORN was hired by the Agency as [redacted]

[redacted] In 1961 he became a full-time contract agent and was assigned to Mexico City, under personal cover, to establish a degree of security and mobility which would permit him to travel readily on third country political action assignments. Since the beginning of his relationship with the Agency, he has participated in Agency sponsored operations in [redacted]

[redacted] At present, he is engaged full-time in managing a Mexico Station funded left wing intellectual publication, [redacted] His cover in Mexico now is nominal and he attributes his presence and interests primarily to his activities in the legal field for his former Los Angeles law firm employer. He devotes most of his time to his position as editor of [redacted]

5. TICHBORN has contributed stories, articles and interviews to United States and Latin American publications. His major accomplishment in this field has been the publication of an interview with [redacted] in a recent issue of [redacted] TICHBORN suggests that he might be able to arrange viable cover for his temporary assignment in the [redacted] by writing to [redacted] and querying their interest in his preparation of an article concerning the [redacted] political situation and the forthcoming election. There is no reason to believe that [redacted] would turn down such a proposal and, in fact, it is believed they would welcome it.

6. Recommendation. The Western Hemisphere Division recommends that approval be given for TICHBORN's approach to [redacted] to advise them of his planned trip to the [redacted] and request of the [redacted] an expression of interest in an article on the present situation in the [redacted] This will be done specifically as a cover for his travel to [redacted] In the event [redacted] should commission him to do such an article, TICHBORN will present his manuscript for Agency approval prior to forwarding it to [redacted]

[redacted] In the event that WH Division or [redacted] Station should wish to utilize such a TICHBORN-prepared article to surface a specific theme of interest to the Agency, a request for approval of such action will be referred to your office prior to taking any action.

Questions
to be resolved :

1. What is extent of the possible utilization of Lopez over the period of the next year and in the future? (I HAVE SOME MORE WORK IDEAS)
2. Based upon the above, what would be an equitable contract arrangement, i.e., how much money is Lopez worth to WH Division when most of his time will be spent working for [ ] indicates that after he begins to make a contribution to [ ] (Probably six months to a year) they would be willing to pick up a portion of the conan action at present. I THINK T. WILL
